1. SCOPE OF WORK

Specifications/Scope of Work

1. Background

Rand Water needs complete and current visibility of its on-premises and cloud infrastructure. After the recent cyber incident, the organisation is rebuilding systems and deciding on its future infrastructure model. Both depend on accurate knowledge of which servers exist, which applications run on them, how they connect and who uses them.

Rand Water requires an agentless infrastructure visibility and application dependency mapping platform that discovers servers, applications, software and network connections without installing agents, maps each business application and its dependencies, and keeps these maps current as the environment changes. The platform will support recovery, change management, migration planning, cyber security monitoring and cost optimisation.

2. EXPECTED OUTCOMES

- Complete inventory: A single, current record of servers, virtual machines, installed software, cloud services and local users across on-premises and cloud environments.
- Mapped business applications: Dependency maps that show how each business application relies on servers, databases and network connections, so that changes and recovery steps are planned with known impact.
- Earlier detection of threats: Visibility of unusual traffic, connections to high-risk countries, vulnerable software, expiring certificates and user access to servers.
- Informed infrastructure decisions: Evidence on inactive and oversized servers and on migration readiness, to support rightsizing and the choice between on-premises, colocation and cloud.

3. Scope of Work

1. Licence supply: Supply an enterprise subscription licence for the platform for twelve (12) months. The licence must cover all Rand Water on-premises and cloud servers, place no limit on the number of business applications mapped, and include every capability area in the table below.
2. Deployment and configuration: Install and configure the platform in Rand Water's environment, connect it to the on-premises, virtualised, cloud and Kubernetes environments, and confirm discovery coverage with Rand Water.
3. Discovery baseline: Produce a verified baseline of servers, installed software, users, network subnets and business application dependency maps, reviewed with Rand Water application and infrastructure owners.

4. Integration: Integrate the platform with Rand Water's configuration management database (CMDB), monitoring tools, security information and event management (SIEM) platform and firewall or micro-segmentation platforms, where the platform supports them.
5. Security, optimisation and migration insights: Configure the cybersecurity, traffic anomaly, vulnerability, certificate and rightsizing features, and report the initial findings with recommended actions.
6. Training and knowledge transfer: Train Rand Water administrators and users, and hand over administrator guides, user guides and an as-built configuration document.
7. Support and maintenance: Provide technical support, software updates and escalation to the original equipment manufacturer (OEM) for the licence term. The bidder must state its support hours and its response and resolution times for each severity level.

PLATFORM CAPABILITIES REQUIRED

Capability Area	Concise Capability Description
Discovery	Discovers and maps business applications without limit, including real-time changes and events, and the dependencies between applications, servers, databases and network connections. Documents the full information technology (IT) inventory, including virtual hosts, virtual machines, local users, installed software on Windows and Linux servers, cloud platform services and Kubernetes. Finds and allocates available Internet Protocol (IP) addresses with tagging and tracking, and supports population of the CMDB.
Change Management	Detects application and infrastructure changes, shows the impact of a change on dependent servers and applications, compares selected time periods to investigate what changed, supports root-cause analysis, and integrates with external platforms and monitoring tools.
Migration	Supports migration planning with dependency information, sizing, cloud pricing and cloud rightsizing, and supports data centre transformation and disaster recovery and business continuity planning.
Cybersecurity	Plans micro-segmentation policies and exports or pushes them to enforcement platforms. Tracks Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) certificates, including expiry and status. Detects which users access which servers, shadow IT, lateral movement, incoming and outgoing traffic, traffic to blacklisted countries, and common vulnerabilities and exposures (CVEs) in installed software.
Compliance	Supports assessment and reporting of the technology environment against recognised security and compliance frameworks, with evidence Rand Water can use for its own audit and regulatory obligations.
Optimisation	Identifies inactive servers and servers with little or no traffic, and recommends rightsizing for on-premises and cloud workloads.
AI infrastructure assistant	An artificial intelligence (AI) assistant that answers natural-language questions about the infrastructure and lets users explore topology, traffic patterns and dependencies through conversation. Rand Water data must not be sent to external AI services without Rand Water's written approval.
Network threat detection	Uses machine learning to detect network threats and anomalies, including denial of service (DoS), man-in-the-middle (MITM) attacks, Domain Name System (DNS) spoofing, port scanning and data exfiltration. Groups related anomalous connections into one event, learns normal activity over time to reduce alert noise, and supports exclusion rules and analyst feedback on detections.
